Singapore, 11 May 2018 – Today, PwC Singapore held the official opening of their new office located on levels nine to 13 at Marina One. The official opening ceremony was graced by Guest-of-Honour, Singapore's Minister for Finance, Mr Heng Swee Keat.

The event celebrated the opening of the new office space and PwC's growth over the years from being principally an accounting firm to becoming a leading one-stop professional services firm offering a whole range of strategic capabilities from audit, tax, consulting, deals, valuation, corporate finance, strategy, transformation, digital services, cyber-security, etc.

Yeoh Oon Jin, Executive Chairman, PwC Singapore said:

"Twenty-eighteen is a significant one for PwC. It marks a double celebration of PwC's growth and evolution in Singapore and our move to this brand new office. Our history can be traced back 169 years and we have grown tremendously since then. I am confident that we will continue to keep growing from strength to strength as the leading professional services firm in Singapore.

"To successfully accomplish this, constantly reinventing ourselves is crucial and this has become an essential part of our DNA. Our digitally-enabled new office at Marina One is a significant investment for the future that will enable us to continue to embrace new ways of working and continually disrupt ourselves in order to remain a trusted business advisor to our clients and the wider business community. "

In conjunction with the official opening, PwC's Growth Markets Centre which is headquartered in Singapore, has also launched a new report titled 'The Future of ASEAN- Time to Act'.
