PwC Singapore welcomes 11 new partners to drive momentum and growth

For immediate release - Singapore, 1 July 2025: PwC Singapore is pleased to announce the appointment of 11 new partners, further strengthening the firm's partnership as the it continues to build, accelerate and sustain momentum for its clients and people.

This move underscores PwC's continued investment in bold, forward-thinking leaders who combine deep expertise with technological enablement to help clients unlock and protect value in an increasingly complex environment. With capabilities spanning Assurance, Deals and Mergers & Acquisitions, Tax, and Technology Consulting, the new partners bring sector-specific experience in financial services, healthcare, real estate, hospitality, logistics, technology and more.

This announcement follows PwC's recent brand refresh, which reflects how the firm works today to help clients outthink, outpace and outperform amid shifting demands. The passions, skills and perspectives of the new partners will play a critical role in enhancing how PwC delivers meaningful outcomes in today's dynamic landscape.

Said Marcus Lam, Executive Chairman, PwC Singapore, on the new appointments:

"Each of our new partners embodies the best of our firm to lead our teams forward in helping businesses transform and build trust, especially at a time when companies and investors recognise that they cannot conduct business as usual.

"With deep technical capabilities, forward-looking strategies and the ability to harness technology, they will play a key role in helping our clients generate and accelerate the momentum needed to thrive in a fast-changing world with clarity and confidence.

"I'm proud to introduce our new partners, please join me in congratulating all of them."
